Pietro,

Could you have one of your officers attend the Freiman lane location tomorrow morning to brief the new security company (shield). They will replace your officers for the day shift through to Monday so they can be mobile.

Thank you

Hey Ivana,

I have found a company called shield security that would be able to provide the coverage from 7am to 7pm on Freiman lane. I should have confirmation within 30 mins.

Thanks Ivana,

I have been on the phone all morning trying to procure security services for multiple locations in the NCR. Resources are extremely limited at this time. I will reach out to see if I can locate something but I can't make any promises at this time.

Phil and Ian, Pat and I just met with Anne and we agreed that it might be best to find either a commissionaire or a security company to do 24/7 at confederation park. Based on the reports that we have been receiving, all seems quiet. This way we could redirect our resources to monitor hot spots this weekend.

Let me know what is feasible. We are down 2 officers and we need all those working to report on the hot spots.

Thanks Phil for your continued help.

Update:

Compound fence has been removed.

Protestors never showed up today.

Steady stream of traffic coming from NAC lot.

Perimeter check of fencing conducted around 14:30 - fencing is in place but essentially not secured in several areas allowing for easy pedestrian access. Some pedestrians went through and exited the park shortly thereafter but no issues with anyone thus far.

Hello All,

Important update on Confed.

The indigenous group was back again (x3 people). Jason and I intercepted them before entering the fence on Laurier, and we advised them that the park was closed to all public. They acknowledge it, but refused to comply and jumped the fence anyways. I called OPS for assistance, and they arrived immediately to assist. The police were able to expel them from the park without force, but the group is not cooperative. They threatened media involvement and lawsuits. As we were speaking with the group, x2 more protesters came in the park to film the interaction, appeared to be live broadcasted on social media. I informed them the park was closed and they needed to leave, but they can continue to film if they wished outside the park.

No charges we laid today, but OPS advised me to call again if they come tomorrow, and appropriate charges and arrests will be made, no more chances as today was the second time dealing with them in as many days.

I have cc'ed the CO team, for whoever is at confed tomorrow. They usually show up around 13h00 and head to the middle of the park. It was unclear if the group was coming back tomorrow, but I have a feeling they will.

The officer told me that when we call the Liaison Officer, to make sure we explain that they were dealt with twice and that arrests/charges should be given should they come back.

Appart from that, confed has been quiet and the fencing and signage is still in place. Eric Marion will be making updates this afternoon.

Let me know if there are any questions,

Thank you,

Good morning all,

The bilingual signage indicating "Park Temporarily Closed" is installed (total of x12) around the perimeter at all the pedestrian accesses, and a few other key location where there seemed to be pedestrian traffic going through. I have also secured the fencing in some areas, using the metal zip-ties in some cases to secure it to the permanent fence.

I will send the photos, but unfortunately through my phone I have to make multiple emails. Let me know if this is adequate, but I believe there is enough signage and that the park is as secure as it can be.

Hi Max, Pietro & Ivana,

30 "park temporarily closed" bilingual signs will be dropped off tomorrow morning around 07h00 by Sign Source, at the COs typical spot at Freiman Lane and QED.

The signs will need to be installed at pedestrian access points into Confed Park. Sign Source will be providing the hardware for installation.

Max, please install the signs immediately once you get them, at the locations in the map below. You should be able to attach them directly to the fencing at these location. Please keep the extras with you, and hand-off to whichever CO replaces you in the afternoon – they're meant to be a supply of extras if/ when the installed signs are vandalized.

Please take photos of the signs once installed so we can pass along at this end to colleagues who are interested in seeing this happen first thing!
Cheers!
